COMMONLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CIRCLES

What Is A Circle?

A circle, in Spiritualism, is where meditation and instruction takes place, depending on the needs of that circle. We run two circles each week: Monday nights and Wednesday mornings. These circles are open circles, known henceforth here as a circle.

Why Attend Our Circles?

The aim of these circles is to assist those attending to move forward along their spiritual pathway so that personally they can benefit.

All people attending too can be vessels to assist the others in the circle so that they too can feel at home and enjoy the experience.

Who Can Attend A Circle?

All are welcome to attend. We have had people attend circles from all the major faiths, including many Christian denominations.

We welcome all to our circles and make every effort to help those who join us to understand what we are about and how we can be of assistance to them.

If you present yourselves for one of these circles, we ask that you agree to abide by the rules of the temple.

We endeavour to accept all points of view and "agree to disagree agreeably" if there is a difference in understanding between any members of the circle. We do insist that all is done in a spirit of Divine Love and Peace.

Can Children Attend?

Children, 16 years or over, can attend a circle, providing that a parent or guardian is present with them at all times.

Do I Need Any Experience?

No prior experience is necessary. Any new sitter is introduced and made aware of some general rules for the circle. They are also informed that they are protected by the guidance of the leaders and the temple. Newcomers to the circle are always treated with understanding.

Do I Need To Attend Every Week?

No. We recognise that some people cannot attend every week due to work, personal responsibilities or other reasons.

How Long Does It Run For?

A circle is run for one hour. It starts and finishes between the advertised times as much as it is humanly possible.

When Should I Arrive?

It is necessary to arrive early for circles. We ask that you arrive to be seated 10 minutes before the circle starts. It is also beneficial to be settled and personally protected before it begins. The doors are shut whilst the circle is running.

What Happens In A Circle?

These circles are run as either a meditation or discussion of subjects concerned with our philosophy.

A meditation consists of a guided meditation followed by a discussion of what was experienced and, possibly, overheads.

A discussion is where the selected topic is presented by the leader followed by an open discussion. Some of the subjects discussed include protection, healing and guidance for both our spiritual & earthly journeys. The discussion is normally followed by flower reading practice.

Who Runs The Circle?

The circles are run and supervised by a Minister and/or an experienced medium trained by the Church.

The circle leader make decisions concerning seating, subjects discussed and how the circle will be conducted on the day. The leaders have sufficient experience and knowledge that the circles are run smoothly with benefit to all.

All circles also have an experienced person seated opposite the leader, able to bring power into the circle and be a focus for maintaining harmony.

Do You Use Prayer?

Prayers are said both at the start and end of the circle.

Our temple is Bible based. We work within the Cosmic Christ Light and endeavour to assist all who enter our doors to experience Divine Love and Peace.

How Much Does It Cost?

This temple does not charge a fixed fee to enable anyone to attend the circles. We operate on a "free-will" donation basis. EFT option is available. Please ask for more information.

Further Questions?

If you have any further questions, please speak to a Minister or an authorised representative.

Please note that no private readings are given in this temple.
